Tuesday	1. What did I complete since the last standup?	Our team met to plan the UI and UX direction for UniMarket. I researched how popular marketplace apps structure their layouts, and we noted which design patterns students would find familiar and easy to use.
	2. What am I planning to complete between now and the next standup?	I plan to start mapping out the navigation flow of the app, from signing up to listing and buying an item. I also want to compare a few colour schemes and fonts that suit a student-focused platform.
	3. What are my impediments (or risks or problems)?	No major blockers at the moment. The main challenge is narrowing the research down into a few clear design decisions so that we don't end up with too many different ideas.

Wednesday	1. What did I complete since the last standup?	I completed my UI and UX research notes and shared them with the team. I then started on the navigation map showing how a user moves between the home page, product listings, the cart and their profile.
	2. What am I planning to complete between now and the next standup?	I want to finalise the navigation map and begin planning the walkthrough slides that will show each screen of the app step by step. I'll also check with my teammates that the navigation matches their screen designs.
	3. What are my impediments (or risks or problems)?	We're still deciding how many screens to include in the walkthrough. We need to be realistic and show the key user journey without making the slides too crowded.

Thursday	1. What did I complete since the last standup?	I finished the navigation map and created my part of the walkthrough slides. We explained how a student moves through the app to buy and sell items safely and conveniently, and I supported my teammates with their slides.
	2. What am I planning to complete between now and the next standup?	I want to polish the walkthrough slides so the screenshots and captions look consistent, and help my teammates finalise their sections. We also need to rehearse the presentation together to make sure everything flows well.
	3. What are my impediments (or risks or problems)?	Time management is becoming a small concern as we have a lot to cover and we need to make sure we don't rush. We also need to agree on one consistent design style across all the slides.

Friday	1. What did I complete since the last standup?	I prepared and rehearsed the presentation with my team, going through the research findings, the navigation map and the walkthrough slides. We gave each other feedback on pace and clarity.
	2. What am I planning to complete between now and the next standup?	I want to practise my delivery one more time and make sure I'm confident with my section. I'll also prepare a few backup points in case we get questions about our design choices.
	3. What are my impediments (or risks or problems)?	No major issues right now. We're all feeling good about our preparation. I just want to make sure we stay calm and keep to our time limit when presenting.
